Dedication

Another major step in the development of Victoria College has been taken this year with our expansion to a degree granting university.

Through the hard work of the people of Victoria there will be a limited number of third and fourth year courses offered in the 1959-1960 college term.

This "Tower" for 1959 is respectfully dedicated to the people who worked so hard to make this advancement possible, and to the students who will graduate in succeeding years with a full degree from Victoria College.

Principal's

Message

Every year at Victoria College is a good year, but some, like this year, are more hectic than others. Enrolment for the 1958-59 Session was much higher than anticipated, with a 50.9 percent increase in the College of Education and a 14.5 percent increase in Arts and Sciences. This unexpected registration resulted in serious overcrowding and taxing of facilities. The good spirit of the Faculty and students showed in their willingness to accept larger classes, and in their patience and co-operation when the Cafeteria, Chemistry and Student Activity huts were not ready. As Principal of the College, I apologize for these overcrowdings and delays. It would be foolish of me to promise that they will not occur again, for I admit that every year it becomes increasingly difficult to predict enrolments. Even as I write, we are about to occupy the extension to the Ewing Building. This will provide a doubling of Library space, a new Union Room, classrooms and Faculty offices. In September, the newly purchased Dunlop House will provide three seminar rooms and several more offices. Certainly by that time I am optimistic enough to think that the athletic field at Gordon Head will be ready for use. Indeed, the College may have acquired the whole Gordon Head Camp site, so essential to its future growth.

Yes, Victoria College is expanding. The increase in enrolment and the extended facilities I have just mentioned bring us nearer to our dream of a four-year College. Indeed, it is inevitable, and all but a reality.

In this foreword on behalf of the Faculty, I usually say "farewell" to all Sophomores. This year I say "au revoir," because the College is making plans to offer a limited number of Third and Fourth Year courses in September, 1959.

As I say "au revoir," it is in the full consciousness that the extended Victoria College of the future will enjoy success only in the measure that it is faithful to its best traditions, only in so far as it seeks to keep alive close intimacy between Faculty and students.

W. H. Hickman.

President's Message

This is my opportunity to express my appreciation for all that Victorio College has given me. First, being President of the Students' Council has been an honour. I have made mistakes and had worries, but from them I have learned lessons I will never forget. For the privilege of this education, I thank you.

I can have nothing but admiration for the members of this year's Students' Council. Their sense of responsibility toward you has made them good representatives; their loyalty and co-operation have given us the unity necessary for active student government. Above all, they have been honest in discussion and decision, and I respect them for it.

To the Faculty, may I express my gratitude for the advice gained from experience, and given with willingness. This personal interest in the affairs of the students, individually and as a whole, will remain in my mind as an unchangeable part of Victorio College.

Finally, I would like to congratulate you on your interest in your Students' Council. You have expressed your opinion, both for and against our proposals, and you have participated in the athletic and social activities we have directed. You have gone to classes, and you have studied, but above all, you have made the old College live.

Next year a new group of students will begin their university career at Victorio College. May I encourage those of you who will return, to give these new Freshmen the full benefit of your experience. To next year's Students' Council, "Best of luck"; to next year's students, "Every success" to our Faculty, "Thank you"; and to old Victorio College, "Good-bye."

ISOBEL TYACKE—Isobel, a future teacher, comes to us from Vernon. Her studies take up much of her time, but she enjoys playing badminton, too. Next year Isobel will brighten up her own classroom.

DONALD VARNEY—Don's home is in Kelowna and he attended U.B.C. before coming to V.C. A member of the Bowling Club, he says he enjoys, as hobbies, wine and women (what about song?).

FREDDIE WALKER—Fred is a graduate of Notre Dame College in Trail and has been active on the campus by playing basketball. A future teacher, he is also a member of the Reserve Army.

MARILYNN WASHINGTON—Marilynn hails from the interior of B.C.—West Summerland, to be exact. She participates actively in volleyball, badminton and music (the piano and trumpet). Marilynn will begin her career as a teacher next year.

DIANE WATKIN—Diane, a pert and attractive second year Education student, graduated from Oak Bay High. At College she is president of the Players Club and also pursues this dramatic interest outside of College. Next year Diane will be teaching.

RAYMOND WATKINS—Ray, who is registered in third year, is an excellent pianist and, on campus, participates in the Bowling and Badminton Clubs. Likeable and friendly, Ray will teach for a while and later become a high school physics and maths teacher.

IRENE WEBB—A busy girl, popular Irene participates in curling, volleyball, square dancing, Jive Club and Players Club. She is secretary-treasurer of the Curling Club and is on the WUGS co-executive. Irene also manages to find time for skating, dancing and reading. Next year Irene will "terrorize a grade four class somewhere in the Okanagan."

RAYMOND WEINGARDT—Ray comes to us from Ottawa University but makes his home in Kelowna. President of the Iron Horse Club at the Royal Olympic, Ray's future, he says, includes the "liquor cabinet."

AUDREY WELDEN—Audrey comes to Victoria College from up north—Fort St. John. Her main interest, besides her studies, is bowling. Next year Audrey hopes to teach elementary school in her home town.

MADGE WHITE—A personable miss from Notre Dame is Madge. An important addition to the college from Revelstoke, she will be teaching next year, after which she will return to college to further her studies. Around college she belongs to the Newman Club.

SHEILA WHITTEMORE—Sheila is a U.B.C. graduate and she took her third year on a NFCUS scholarship at Queen's University. Now enrolled in the Faculty of Education, she plans to teach next year. Her varied interests range from wood carving and oil painting to lawn tennis and The Victoria Historical Society.

JILL WISEMAN—This ambitious Education student puts down her home town as Naramata and attended Penticton High. September will find Jill in charge of her own classroom.

MIRELLA ZANON—Some future class of elementary pupils will have attractive Mirella for a teacher. Her home town is Trail, B.C., and she is a member of the Newman Club.

Campus Queen

Louise Marcil

Flanked by her two lovely princesses, Patti Harvey and Elaine Ferguson, bright-eyed Louise Marcil was crowned Campus Queen for 1959 at the annual WUGS' dance.

This First Year Education student was Miss RCAF for two years in her home town of Dawson Creek and along with being class valedictorian also won a 33-day trip to New York in a public speaking contest sponsored by the Oddfellows.

With seven sisters and a brother to keep her busy at home, Louise finds her time at college filled by the Jive and Newman Clubs. Outside of college she likes dancing, skating and "just about everything."

Louise hopes to teach grade five in Kelowna next year and get her degree through summer school, or by returning to college.

Every best wish for the future is extended to Louise Marcil—our beautiful Campus Queen for 1959.

Candidates

Second row: Jon Stott, Ian Smith, Margaret Johnston, Norma Dickinson.

President-Elect Tony Robertson

Members of this year's Council were: Ron Cook (President), David Skillings (Vice-President), Anne Mayhew (Secretary), Roger Hollick (Treasurer), Barry Gelling (Director of Publications and Publicity), Robert H. Smith (Director of Clubs), Valerie Peden (Director of Women's Athletics), Ian Smith (Director of Men's Athletics), Margaret Johnston (WUGS President), John Reid (MUGS President), Jon Stott (Martlet Editor), and Norma Dickinson, Carrol Hunter, Dick Elwood and Donald Kirkby (First Year Representatives).

Students' Council

Running the college from the second floor of the cafeteria building this year's students' council led by president Ron Cook, vice-president Dave Skillings, secretary Anne Mayhew, treasurer Roger Hollick, and staff sponsors Dr. Tracy and Dr. Elliot achieved many important goals for the college.

During the year the council featured the appearance of Mr. Lee Briggs, former manager of the B.C. Power Commission, the appearance of Denis Patchen, popular American jazz poet, the disappearance of Premier W. A. C. Bennett, and the appearance of two former Victoria College students, Jahn Manning and Gordon Wood.

With a thought towards the future of Victoria College as a degree granting University the council had students fill out third year course form ballots to aid the staff in selecting possible third and fourth year programmes to be offered here next year.

The council also had a thorough investigation into the possibilities of joining the National Federation of University Students. A committee under the chairmanship of vice-president Dave Skillings was formed and after much discussion the matter was placed in the hands of a student plebiscite. The student body was very definitely against joining the federation at the present time.

Under the supervision of Bob Smith a plan was developed for floating $75,000 bond issue to pay for the building of a Student Union Building. This plan has not definitely been accepted but is undergoing careful consideration by the council and other committees.

Sportswise although the teams did not bring as much attention to the college as they have in past years each team received a trip to Vancouver as well as playing in several Island centres.

As is the annual custom the council staged an orphanage party and assisted in ushering at the college play.

The literary clubs in the council flourished this year and in accordance with this rise in interest the council purchased a new Gestetner machine for the printing of college papers and other forms of scandal.

WUGS EXECUTIVE

Women's Undergraduate Society

Members of this year's W.U.G.S. have spent a busy and enjoyable seven months participating in activities organized by their executive: Marg Johnston, president; Anne Sutton, vice-president; Janie Hardie, secretary; Marilyn Ardley, treasurer; Judy Worthington, programme convenor, and Maxine McClure, publicity chairman. The executive was helped by a social committee of six members and the W.U.G.S. sponsor, Mrs. K. Christie.

At the beginning of the fall term, new girls were entertained by returning sophs at the annual Freshette Tea. The W.U.G.S. were honoured to have Mrs. Frank M. Ross attend this function, which was high-lighted by a showing of college fashions. Other autumn activities included a talk on mental health, several meetings, and the preparation of entertainment for the M.U.G.S. Smoker and the M.U.G.S. Dance.

Something new was tried in December last year—the first "W.U.G.S. Smakette." The evening proved a great success with "fun and games" and food for all. A coffee party at which former and present students were welcomed and entertained climaxed the first term.

In February, the W.U.G.S. sponsored a talk and the showing of excellent slides by John Manning, who had just returned from a world tour. Also in February, the women had their day—ar more precisely, week. Although they had to bear the cost, the girls enjoyed taking over from their lords and masters for one week. The W.U.G.S. Dance, "Cupid's Caper," was held on February 13 and was attended by a large crowd of masked "Famous Couples." This was the first time in many years that a masquerade has been held by the College, and its success was extremely rewarding. W.U.G.S. awards presented at intermission went to: Jill Robertson, Caf. Queen; Tom (Dooley) Bourne, International Lover, and Bob Smith and Diane Watkin, Lovingest Couple.

Several meetings were held during the spring term, which concluded with a tea organized by the president-elect and frash girls in honour of those leaving the College.

Men's Undergraduate Society

The M.U.G.S. led by Blair McLean, Honorary Padre; Jim Wilson, First Year Education; Russ Chambers, First Year Arts and Science; Thomas D. Bourne, Foreign Relations; Bill Gosling, Treasurer; Lyle Garraway, Vice-President, and John Reid, President, were outstanding in every activity this year. The Smaker was a WILD success, the annual M.U.G.S. Dance was a whapper with the introduction of the Gary Howard Camba, the Majorettes were as feminine and funny as was masculinely possible, and the Beauty Queen Contest was the highlight of the year. The W.U.G.S. Dance entertainment was a Broadway Hit compared to the last year's performance.

MUGS EXECUTIVE

Left to right: Hew Gwynne, Karl Wylie,
Peter Stockdill.

Camera Club

The Camera Club of Victoria College, reportedly inactive in 1957-58, held an organizational meeting early in October, 1958. Elected to office at that time were Karl Wylie as president, Peter Stockdill as vice-president and Jennifer Groos as secretary. However, the club has become active only quite recently. Because of this late start it has been very difficult to raise interest among the students. Several talks concerning equipment and basic theory have been given by the president, but the only main project of the club has been the gathering of candid and assistance in preparing the section dividers for the Annual.

It is hoped that space may be allocated to the club in the new Clubs Building and plans are being discussed for a darkroom. With this very valuable addition there is every chance for a very interesting and active club next year.

I. R. C.

The International Relations Club enjoyed a busy and successful year under the leadership of President Helen Brunell. The club met on Thursdays to listen to speakers—students or distinguished outsiders—on such topics as West Germany and modern Africa. Several delegates were sent to the United Nations Association Conference in Vancouver and the club also represented the United States at the U.N. Model General Assembly held in Victoria in February. Other members of the executive were: Margaret Arnold as secretary, Norma Dickinson as program director, and Bob Taylor as publicity manager.

SPECTATOR AND LISTENER

Spectator and Listener

The Spectator and Listener, two Council-sponsored publications, were issued to the students on alternating weeks by a group of hard-working students.

These publications concentrated on presenting interesting literary works of the productive students of the College and introducing both sides of various controversial subjects through "letters to the editors." They stimulated interest in College papers and made some students turn more to thinking for themselves, which resulted in the production of two rival sheets.

Much of the credit for these two publications must go to Barb Dickout and Marilyn Ardley of the Spectator staff, and to the co-editors of the Listener, Janie Hardie and Ian Smith.

Players Club

The Victoria College Players presented their annual production in the last week in February. This year the club chose Eugene O'Neill's family comedy "Ah, Wilderness."

The cast included John Hart, Colin Ross, Elizabeth Roper, Bob Taylor, Diane Watkin, Linda Johns, Karl Wylie, Margaret Johnston, Milton Calder, Maureen Gee, Michael Deane, Barbara Dickout, Irene Webb, Ed Pomeroy and Peter Marinker.

The club was grateful to Mr. Gil Bunch of North Saanich High for helping out during Mrs. Nicholson's absence in January.

For the first time in four years the play was not a "Theatre-in-the-Round" production as a new stage was built in the auditorium. This stage was of an experimental type and presented many new problems to the technical crew, headed by Bob H. Smith. His able assistants were Phil Clark, Lorne Ross and Bud Bradshaw. Others were Jill Robertson, Carole Slater, Diane Hamlet, Ken Bull, Marilyn McElmyle, Wendy Love and Jennifer Maunsell.

Second row: Michael Deane, John Hart, Milton Calder, Dianne Hamlet, Bob Smith.
Third row: Ed Pomeroy, Sandy Pogson, Joe Moore, Colin Ross, Mike Rankin.

Poster Club

A variety of colorful posters were painted in the "Pub" to advertise the College's intellectual, social and athletic activities by members of the Poster Club.

Carole Slater was again president, with Barbara Whipple and Sharon Russell vice-presidents.

Bringing news of campus activities during the 1958-1959 season was The Martlet, the Victoria College student newspaper. Three editions were published during the year, celebrating the homecoming, third-year campaign of the Students' Council and the Co-ed. Mr. Swainson acted as faculty advisor. Editor for this year was Jon Stott. Ian Smith, Jean Bartholomew, Harold Ridgway, Barb Kallus and Sue Bellward completed the executive.

Jazz Club

Lorne Priestley was elected president of this year's Jazz Club.

Other officers include Joe Maare, vice-president; Joan Sims, secretary-treasurer; Marion Mezger and Ralph Turner, program directors.

The club has held noon meetings every Tuesday since September.

A club-sponsored dance in January and a concert in February highlighted the year's activities.

Jive Club

The Jive Club, the largest College Club, held sessions every Friday at noon in the Union Room. In the first month of the fall term the club was benefited by the temporary presence of Mrs. Narris' coffee urns, which boasted attendance. Several times throughout the year, the members danced to "live" music from local rock 'n' roll fiends and were assisted by teaching sessions. On the 23rd of January, at the Crystal Garden, "Joe Maare's Five" provided inspiration for the club's successful annual dance. Lynn Palmer was chosen to represent the Jivers in the Campus Queen contest.

President Ken Bull was kept busy organizing and controlling his active executive: vice-president, Alf Pettersen, who ran the actual sessions; secretary, JoAnne Gingell, and treasurer, Laurel Wakefield. Barb Dickout, Bev Greggar and Darleen Johnston, past rep., assisted the executive. Special thanks are offered to Jan Stott, disc jockey, and to Bob Taylor, in charge of pop sales. The club is also grateful to Mel Patts, who sacrificed his time to give instruction, and his records, and to Mr. Wallace, club sponsor.

Choir and Chorale

This year the Victoria College Choir and Chorale presented a variety of numbers from classical to folk songs for the enjoyment of its members. They also participated in the annual spring concert.

The music award of fifty dollars is sponsored by the Choir and Chorale in conjunction with the Listening Club.

Sponsor and conductor of the club was Mr. D. B. Gaddes; David Heal was president; Roseann Millin, vice-president, while Joan Butterworth and Peter Gornett completed the executive.

Newman Club

Victoria College Newman Club activities have been enthusiastically planned and carried out by the 1958-59 executive.

Officials included Rev. M. O'Connell, chaplain; Tom Stanko, president; Joan Savoie, vice-president; Lea Boyd, secretary-treasurer; Beulah Marion, spiritual chairman; Dennis Connor, intellectual chairman; Bernie Earthy, social chairman; Gerri Reiber, publicity chairman.

Projects have included several discussions and social evenings in private homes, a day of recollection, two communion breakfasts, a dance and our Easter Monday picnic at Shawnigan Lake.

I.V.C.F.

This year the Victoria chapter of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship was led by David Heal, president; John Wakeford, vice-president; Marion Elliott, secretary; Cliff Bowering, treasurer; Judy Ferworm and Peter Challoner, publicity, and Joan McKechnie, missionary secretary.

During the year we have examined the fundamental principles of Christianity, incorporated community singing into our meetings, held prayer meetings three times a week, and Bible studies. We have included as much student participation in the meetings as possible, with outside speakers including John Williams of London, Dr. Rowell of Victoria, and Matt Pollack from the Belgium Congo and Vancouver. Attendance has doubled this year and we look forward to continued increasing interest next year.

CHESS CLUB

Chess Club

Victoria College Chess Club had a successful season marked by a championship tournament that was actually finished.

The executive, consisting of Peter Roche, president, and Mike Horn, vice-president, conducted the fall tournament, and a spring ladder tournament, which Dave Dawson won, while Tony Dare and Mike Horn tied for second. A match with Victoria High School was also arranged.

Another highlight was the purchase of five new chess sets to replace those demolished in the Men's Commons during 1957-58.

Science Club

The executive of this year's Science Club consisted of Bob Parker, president; Gordon Eekman, vice-president; Caroline Webb, secretary, and Frank Bridges, poster representative.

A series of talks by speakers from the Pacific Naval Laboratory and a talk by Professor Dosso were the main first term activities.

During the second term the members enjoyed a talk by Dr. Petrie on his recent trip to Moscow and trips to the Naval Laboratory and Astrophysical Observatory. The club also attempted to have the plans and microfilms of the Norseman Rocket project placed in the library for the use of future club members.

During the year the club was sponsored by Professor Climenhaga.

RADIO CLUB

Radio Club

This year the executive consisted of Bruce Young, president; Hew Gwynne, vice-president in charge of news; Joan Fitt, secretary-treasurer, and Tony Dare, musical programmes director. Murray Fletcher headed the technical department and Bob Taylor headed the Pop music department, while Sandy Pogson and Jocque Poulding were in charge of the publicity department.

Considerable progress has been recorded during 1958-59, the most noteworthy of which is the extended coverage of CJVC to include the men's and women's commans, as well as the new section of the Cofeterio. The station was "on the air" over 700 hours during the year, and forty people were instructed in the operation of the console. One hundred new selections, along with much service equipment were added.

Among their activities, the club held the annual Radio Society Blue Room dance, which was again a success. The Briggs and Bennett speeches were both covered by CJVC for CKWX, UBC radio, and the CBC Dominion network. Disc Jockey "Red" Robinson was asked by the Radio Club to speak at the college, and Eloine Ferguson was sponsored as "Miss CJVC." The society also took part in the blood drive by donating records as door prizes.

It is hoped that next year's staff will extend coverage and service, and carry on towards our aim: to instruct all members in all phases of radio, as well as to provide service and entertainment for the students.

Engineers' Club

What the V.C. Engineers lacked in experience, they made up for in vitality.

This statement pretty well sums up the year's activities for this organization of fifty healthy, growing Arts and Science lads. Under the inspired direction of president Ted Walton, the V.C. Engineers managed to kick up College spirit with a number of varied but interesting projects.

Of paramount interest, of course, were the two "spectaculars" engineered by the club—the promotion job for Edna-Moy Dysart during the Campus Queen contest, and the replacing of the missing brick in the west end of the building.

The only regret in this initial year of operation for the V.C. Engineers (the club was formed early in February) was that they had no part in the historic displacement of the Royal Roads artillery. However, for the three months that they were in operation it is felt that they did right well by themselves.

Other members of the executive were Blair McLean, vice-president; Neil Paget, secretary; Pete Ambrose, treasurer; Ian Smith, public relations, and Dove Benson, padre.

Philosophy Club

The College Philosophy Club had two meetings in the first term—a lecture on Theosophy from the head of that organization in Victoria and a survey of Existentialism prepared by Dr. Cross. Brief, yet pointed, and of interest to all Arts students, Dr. Cross' essay was later published in The Tatler.

Again in the second term a balance was maintained between religious and wordly philosophy. Speeches on the theories of history and language were presented also.

Sponsored by Professor Watson, the executive was made up of: Ralph Burgess, president; Olive Fairholme, vice-president, and our hard-working secretary, Pat Petrie.

Listening Club

It is regretted that the Listening Club has not been as active this year as it would want. It presented one concert in the Fall term featuring college talent and another in the Spring term featuring a well-known professional artist. The other programs consisted entirely of recorded music from classical to modern. In addition to its noon activities the Listening Club, together with the Choir, presented an evening Spring concert. A highlight of the concert was the presentation of a fifty-dollar Music Activity Award. This award is made to a student who contributes to, shows an interest in, and helps to promote musical activity in the College while retaining at least a pass average in academic studies at Christmas. It must be used to further the higher education of the recipient. This award was presented last year, for the first time, to Bernard Rain. It is hoped that if sufficient funds are available it will soon be possible to present two such awards.

This year's executive for the Listening Club is Glenys Truesdale, president; Diana McBratney, vice-president; Caroline Webb, secretary-treasurer; Bob Taylor, Poster Club representative, and Jane Hardie, editor of the "Listener." Our club sponsor was Dr. Tracy.

Square Dance Club

Several couple dances were learned by the Square Dance Club, and many square dances were held during the year.

Club activities were culminated at the Mount View High School Square Dance Jamboree, which was attended by several members.

Keith Honnett was president of the club; Yoshi Hashimoto, vice-president; Ken Bull, secretary-treasurer, and Carol Todd, program convenor.

During the year Yoshi very obly colled many square dances which were enjoyed by the members.

The club was sponsored by Mrs. Kennedy.

Pre-Med Club

This year the Pre-Med Club porticipated in many successful activities. Among projects undertaken by the club were a drive to obtain o third year of pre-medical studies at Victorio College and steps were taken to have the Medical Aptitude Test made available to college students.

Speakers included Dr. G. B. Friedmann, who discussed radiotion hozords, and Dr. R. L. Wiggins who outlined eye surgery. A very successful blood drive, sponsored by the club collected 192 pints.

The club executive included Robin Hutchinson, president; Sandy Pogson, vice-president, and Margoret Richmond, secretary.

Led by on executive consisting of President Walter Loube, Vice-President Korl Wylie, Secretary Barbora Kollus, ond Stoff Spansor Dr. Trocy, the German Club enjoyed on extremely successful year.

Meetings were held every Wednesday and the members joined in singing songs and telling staries in German. They also watched movies and film strips about Germany.

Another popular club activity was the listening to talks by Club President Walter Loube on his life in Germany.

Next year the club hopes to stoge several smoll plays in German.

POLITICAL CLUB PRESIDENTS

Progressive Conservative

Early in October the club elected Mr. Bruce Kingham, president; Mr. John Carson, first vice-president; Mr. Robert E. Smith, second vice-president; Mr. Brian Carr-Harris, secretary, Mr. Edward Latour, treasurer, and Mr. Michael Rankin, director of social activities. Dr. G. Moreau agreed to be the club sponsor.

The club had one speaker during the first term. Mr. Edward Savannah discussed methods by which we might improve our club's activities. During the second term, the club had a conducted tour through the Victoria Phoenix Breweries.

The members were invited to a number of meetings held by outside political organizations and also to a reception held by the Premier on the occasion of the opening of the Legislature.

"Cervisiae cactores potatouesque comesque fuimus."

Liberal

The liberal Club (small "l") was formed from the ranks of the college PC's and CCF's early in the spring term to study the Liberal movement in Canada. It has been affiliated with all other Canadian Campus Liberal Clubs and is fortunate in having full co-operation from the Liberal Party. B.C. Liberal Leader Arthur Laing spoke to a mass audience "the day the cannon came." George Gregory (???) was another guest speaker. With an active party spirit this club has failed to live up to the Conservative tradition socially.

C.C.F.

Political discussions, talks from outside speakers, parties, and the publication of a bi-weekly newspaper, "The Social Democrat," highlighted activities of the CCF Club.

Executive: Adam Ustik, president; Mitch Burchill, vice-president; Fred Salekin, secretary-treasurer, and Tony Dare, publicity director, feel the club had a highly successful and busy year.

Plans for next year include the continuation of similar activities.

Mandrake to Philomel

Pythanic Paphian of ultimate predetermination,
This false claim of cameliness
Will avail thee nought.
The falcan yet will have thee,
And my kyrialexy would free thee just as soon.
And thou, tao,
Turned a festering hieracasphinx,
Wilt scream the rooted death-cry.

JOHN SIMPSON.

Early Morning, February

Stark black branches
Hold the sky in a futile embrace.
Eons away
The strange stars,
Eternally awake,
Stare ceaselessly, and swim
Blindly in the alien light of ante-dawn.
Hopelessly baund, they strain
In the intangible prisans of their orbits.
Through the comfortless, cold air
The wind comes from a far plove
And keens to the shore
Singing a soundless sorrow.

WENDY LOVE.

The Warriors of Night

We have trampled their earth beneath our haafs;
We have slashed down their standing carn;
We have fired the thatch of their village raafs;
We have raped their women before the dawn;
We have laughed in the face of the crimson morn;
We have turned our harses and ridden away
Where the purple wraiths of the night are gane,
Consumed by the passion of red-lipped day.
They are lower than slaves in our household, they;
They are smaller than stars in the dead of night;
They are less than the birds on the wave-plumed bay
That rise at a whisper and wheel in flight!
They trudge by their ploughs and they will not fight;
They reap their fields but they do not feast;
Their temple maids dress in vestal white,
Like the snow of the mountains that line the east.
They sleep when the labours of day have ceased:
We laugh and carouse with the storm-tossed sky.
We meet the dawn with a smile at least:
They do not laugh and they do not cry.
The current of life has passed them by,
Like the river's swell by a nadding tree . . .
But we have the roads of the Gads to try,
And all of the infinite ward, to see.

Simply a State

It's been awhile,
Said the Ghost,
Since I've walked those halls.
Lately I just can't be bothered
To set my feet down to earth.
I'd much rather,
Said the Ghost,
Just drift through the passageways,
Letting the soft wind
Toss me like sullen smoke
Whither it may.

Lately,

I seem to have been getting a little pale around the gills
And a bit peaked after a hard night of haunting.
I must be
Out of condition,

Pipes

In all our cellars
are dirty iron pipes;
cobweb-laced,
like mildewed boots in a forgotten attic;
smelling of wetted rust and rotted wood,
all pointing
dully and inexorably unwavering in their solid deformity.
In ugly groups
and singly
under our damp wooden houses:
pointing fetidly and permanently,
carrying us with them, like household excrement
still further into the dismal gloom:
and toward the unchangeable destination.

Laughter and Tears

I. Mankind

Laughter and tears and a ripple of silence
And then we are gone.
Memory dies with the shadows that shaped it:
Nothing lives on.

II. The Dead

Once we laughed and were merry, danced and met life with a smile;
Once we were bent with the fullness of sorrow and cried by ourselves for a while:
Once we were shaken with laughter and tears; now, still and silent, we lie
Dead with the death of the undying years, and wait for the living to die.

III. Epicurus

Laugh! for your end is coming:
Laugh! for oblivion's near:
Laugh! for else you will surely drown
In the whirlpool of a tear.

IV. The Whisperers

When you walk step lightly on the grass,
Lest you shake the shining tears of dew
From the blades that tremble as you pass:
When you die, then we will mourn for you.

V. The Echoes

We are the mourners, paid for synthetic tears:
To the end of the world we will follow you, but none
Will willingly pass from this land of glowing darkness
Into the darker land of oblivion.

VI. Chorus

Cast away your fears!
You will die, and after
There will be time for tears
For the dead know not laughter.

"We'll Take the Royal Roads..."

On the early Tuesday morning of February 18, 1959, half the armament (a cannon), of a Canadian Military Institution (Royal Roads), disappeared mysteriously into the night. That piece of equipment appeared at noon on the stairs of the Ewing Building which was to be officially opened later that same afternoon.

This event was the highlight of a week that saw a Monday morning teapot bolted to the flag pole on the Tower, and a Provincial Minister pushing aside an Austin to clear a path for Premier W. A. C. Bennett's motorcade.

This event led to formation of the Victoria College Gun Club and to the institution of the "Maycook Award" for promoting "good college character."

A moment of silent chuckle is offered to honor the perpetrators of the only successful "gun club" expedition in the city's history.

Athletic Council

The Athletic Council has never been so busy. Even with a thirteen member council and Mr. Farquhar's direction, the increased student enrollment is keeping the whole council hopping.

The function of this council is to co-ordinate and control all athletic activities in the college. This year it has been expounding activities to include senior "A" basketball, golf and ping pong as well as the usual activities—soccer, rugby, basketball, gross hockey, volleyball, swimming, badminton, curling and bowling.

This year's council could not have functioned without the strong support of our coaches, staff sponsors and team members, whom we wish to thank. The Athletic Council regrets only the lack of money available to facilitate further expansion of our activities and the fact that we have neither a playing field nor a gymnasium of our own.

Second row: Julie Beecroft, Maxine McClure.

Third row: Ian Smith, Val Peden, Diana Lawrence.

Fourth row: Ralph Turner, Don Wilson, Bill Gosling.

Back row: Lyle Garraway, Ken McCulloch.

Cheerleaders

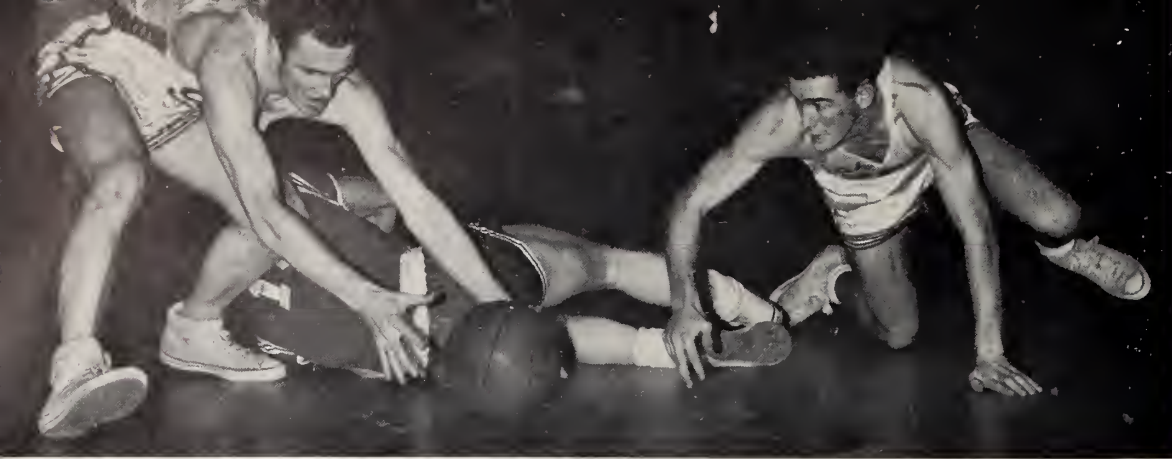

The enthusiastic cheer squad has been very successful this year under the capable leadership of Valerie Parkin. The other members of the group were: Carole Slater, JoAnne Gingell, Patti Harvey, Sylvia Rogers and Lynda Chan. The group was kept busy most weekends cheering at basketball games for the Junior and Senior Vikings, and the Norsemen.

Senior "A" Vikings

Although this year has not seen too many Viking victories, it marks the first year that a Victoria College team has played in a Senior A Division. The loss of several of the members of last year's Canadian championship team proved a stumbling block in the stiffer competition. The team's great weakness, as indicated in the several games with Alberni, was lack of height at centre.

In the Island finals of the Senior A Division the Vikings were defeated in three games by the Alberni Athletics. Great credit is due to Bill Garner and Mr. Martens who gave unselfishly of their time during the year.

Junior Vikings

The members of this year's Junior Vikings were mainly First Year students. It was the first time that most of these players had worked together and as the season progressed, so did their team work. Many exhibition games were played before and after Christmas. The junior men's playoffs were held in February, and the Vikings won the city championship, beating Naden and Royal Roads. They lost to Chemainus for the Lower Island title.

The team wishes to thank coach Bud Rutherford, faculty advisor Mr. Martens and manager Art Affleck for their time.

Back row: Trevor Gibson, John Kendrick, George Brice, Jack McKay, John Batcheller, Bud Rutherford.

Norsemen

Although not too successful in posting wins, the Norsemen gained enjoyment and great experience for succeeding years in the basketball games they played.

Having no set schedule, the team played a number of exhibition games with local high schools and played in an invitational tournament at Mount View. They were defeated in the final minutes of the game, 31-30, by Mount View, who went on to win the tournament.

The nucleus of the team was the starting five: Steve Lezetc, Harry White, Wayne Rowley, Cyril Foster and Jim Galbraith.

Women's Basketball

The Victoria College "Vikettes" started practice early in October. The team worked rapidly into shape and played three games in the first term. Julie Beecroft, team captain, led the squad of eight to a total of seven wins and five losses during the season. Other members of the team were Val Peden, Doreen Johnston, Carrol Hunter, Val Lomas, Judy Cornwall, Nelly Bing, and Alice Genge.

The "Vikettes" played off in a two-game total-point series with Brentwood for the Island championship. They lost the first game 47-17 but came back with a 34-32 win in the final contest. However, Brentwood won the series 79-51.

The UBC women's basketball team travelled to Victoria on February 27. The "Vikettes" were beaten 38-25 in that exhibition game.

The team extends their thanks to Wayne King, their able coach, Miss Fleming their enthusiastic sponsor, and to Alice Genge who took over the position of Girls' Basketball Representative on the Athletic Council in January.

The invitational volleyball tournament held in March was a great success. Teams from Victoria High, Mount View, Oak Bay, Esquimalt, Saltspring, U.B.C. and Victoria College participated in the Round Robin Tournament.

The college first team won three straight games before losing in the final to U.B.C., 33-20. College's three wins came over Victoria High, Saltspring and Esquimalt.

Many thanks are in order for the college students who ran the tournament so smoothly and to Miss Bray for her fine coaching.

Members of the team were Julie Beecroft, captain; Diana Lawrence, Judy Cornwall, Helen Baffey and Eileen Morrissey.

Women's Grass Hockey

Although the Women's Grass Hockey Team lost its first four games, it soon recovered and finished the season with a creditable record of seven wins, five losses and one tie.

The great interest in hockey enabled the College to field two teams for Bridgeman Cup competition in November. The less experienced second team beat Victoria High School, but lost their other games. The Viking Team, playing an excellent brand of hockey, defeated Victoria High School, 6-0; College second team, 2-0; St. Margaret's, 2-0; and tied Queen Margaret's, 1-1, to complete the round robin with the same number of points as Queen Margaret's. Since Queen Margaret's had scored more goals, they advanced to the final, leaving College to finish third.

Twice, the women defeated UBC's second team, but lost to the Varsity team 3-0 in Vancouver.

The team wishes to thank Miss Bray for her efforts in the team's behalf. The whole College is proud of the achievements of this year's team.

Rugby

The Viking Rugby Team, at the time of writing, appeared headed for a successful season and a probable city championship, with the possibility of a provincial title also in the offing.

The College ruggah men had compiled a 4-1 win-loss record, scoring an overwhelming total of 61 points in their five games, as opposed to a grand total of nine points scored against them in Victoria Rugby Union second division play.

Team captain was Derek Hood, while Jere Mitchell represented his 17 teammates at Athletic Council meetings. Phil Clark was manager, and Mr. Farquhar was staff sponsor. Bob McKee coached the team.

The Viking soccer team, after many delays, finally won the city Inter-Collegiate League championship early in March with a 5-3 win over Royal Roads.

The championship game had originally been scheduled to be completed before Christmas, but was the victim of several delays. However, the Vikings were not to be denied and, when they finally got their chance, made no mistake about the victory.

John Hicks was captain of the team, while Mr. Swainson was coach. Bill Gasling held the dual position of Athletic Council representative and manager.

Curling Club

Under the able spansarship of Mr. A. E. Laft and the president's gavel wielded by Lyle Garraway, the Victoria College Curling Club has had a very successful year.

Maments to remember include a seven-ender scored against Mr. Laft by Larry Lutz, the student teachers rushing in at the last minute, and the immortal words "if only I had . . ." A sharty banspiel, played in March added to the enjoyment.

A simple equation would sum up this year's activities at the club. "Victoria College Curling Club = Friendship and Fun."

The Inter-High-College School Gala, the big meet of the year, showed College edged out of third place by one point. Outstanding team swimmers in this gala were Alice Genge, Mike Deane and Dennis Fieldwalker.

Water polo, organized by team captain, Roy Innes, gained a good start this year toward becoming an established college sport. Beginning just after Christmas, the team played games every two weeks and participated in two tournaments. Their record was one of great improvement—beginning with a 4-2 loss to Royal Roads and progressing to a decisive tournament win over the three organized water polo teams of the city. Next year's plans include participation in a five-team city league.
